Liquor License Renewal For All County Taverns Held up by Investigation

State Says It Will Enforce Law Preventing Slot Machines

All state liquor license renewals for Lake county taverns were ordered suspended yesterday by Charles Fleck, chairman of the Illinois Liquor commission, according to a news service report.

Fleck said the licenses would be withheld pending an investigation on gambling. The order followed disclosure that more slot machine license fees were paid to the federal government in Lake county than any other county in the state.

Fifty taverns are affected, but it is said that they will operate on temporary permits until the charges are disposed of.

Among licenses blocked this week were those of Clara and Victor Klein, Rollins rd., and Lake st., Lake Villa, and Lillian Schmitz, Channel Lake, Antioch.

No date has been set for the hearing on the charges.

The exhibits will include five gaited saddle horses, three gaited saddle horses, harness show ponies, hackney ponies, roadsters, western stock, bridle path amateurs in three and five-gaits, pleasure horses, pair class, and Shetland ponies, single and pairs.

It is said that 400 horses and ponies will be entered.

First prizes will be $20, second, $15, third $10 and fourth $5.

The horse shows will be at night.

4-H and F. F. A. Invited To Show at International Exhibit at Indiana Fair

Indianapolis.—An international invitational 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America and Canadian Boys and Girls Dairy Cattle show will be in conjunction with the International Dairy Exposition at the Indiana state fairgrounds here October 8 through 15, Warren O'Hara, president, said today. He outlined plans for the 4-H and FFA division's dairy cattle exhibit, judging contest and camp which will be in the Youth's buildings at the site of the "World's Fair of the Dairy Industry."

Mr. O'Hara said the cattle exhibit will include seven classes for each of the following breeds: Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein, Jersey, Milking Shorthorn and Red Poll. There also will be a championship and a showmanship contest. Classes include senior heifer calves, junior yearling heifers, senior yearling heifers, cows two years and under three, cows three years and over, and state herd. Only one animal may be entered and shown in each class by an exhibitor. In the class for state herd, a state may show not more than two groups of five animals each. Judging date is October 8.

Ackerman Signs Easement For 20-Foot Additional Width to Orchard, Hillside

Charles N. Ackerman has signed an easement providing an additional 20-foot width to Orchard and its intersecting street, Hillside, President George B. Bartlett announced yesterday. This will give the streets a 70-foot width and is a movement away from the old lane type of street.

The easement was desired in connection with the installation of sewer and water mains in the area, bids for which will be opened Aug. 2. The residents of Orchard st., are putting their money in escrow to take care of the cost of the improvement and no bonds will be issued.

Special Car License Numbers Call for Early Application To Avoid Christmas Mailing

Springfield, Ill.—Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett today reminded motor vehicle owners that legislative action by the 66th General Assembly has changed the deadline date for reassignment of license numbers.

"Motorists who wish to have their present license numbers re-assigned in 1950," Barrett said, must have their application in the Secretary of State's office on or before November 1, 1949."

The previous deadline, moved forward by House Bill 499, was December 1. Application blanks for new plates will be available by October 3, Barrett said.

"It is urgent that persons who wish to retain their present license numbers remember and observe the new date," Barrett warned.

"The moving up of the deadline," he continued, "was done to expedite clearance of plates to auto owners before the Christmas mail-rush season which has slowed delivery of plates in previous years."

Barrett urged applicants to read applications carefully and fill them out completely and correctly before applying for plates to avoid the "usual 25 per cent return of application for better or more complete information."

A spokesman for Barrett stated that one of the major headaches in getting license plates to car owners was caused by the owners themselves, at least one-quarter of whom forget to sign their application, fail to have their application notarized, enclose an incorrect fee, leave off their address, or commit numerous other careless acts which create a problem in correspondence before plates can be mailed.

The automobile department spokesman added that a majority of complaints received in the Secretary's office along the lines of "why don't you get the license plates out on time" are directly traceable to persons who have mailed an improper application.

"To help us get the record number of plates we expect in 1950 into the mail and to avoid any disappointment on the part of anyone seeking a reassignment, please fill out applications correctly and get them to my office on or before the new deadline," Barrett concluded.

More than an inch of rain fell in Antioch and vicinity during an electrical storm Tuesday evening and night. No serious damage was done by lightning although one bolt shorted wiring in a few homes.

The hot sun Wednesday dried grain so that combining could be continued.

Corn is in the best condition in years and was greatly aided by the recent rain. Home grown sweet corn has been on the market for more than a week and field corn is now forming its shoots for ears with practically all in tassel.

Zion Swamps Antioch 17-7 Through Barrage Of Extra Base Clouts

An extra base hit barrage, the like of which has seldom been seen at the local diamond, struck Antioch's V. F. W. team Sunday and when the smoke of battle lifted Zion won 17 to 7.

Sloppy outfielding hurt Antioch, but even perfect fielding would not have brought victory for three Antioch pitchers could not stem the blow of extra base hits by Zion. Ed Olsen had the best luck of the three hurlers, allowing but two runs in his three-inning start.

Aided by a strong wind the game was really a batter's paradise as attested by the seven doubles and four home runs. For Zion Ted Whiteside led the parade with two homers and a double in driving in six runs. He was ably assisted by Floyd Randall who collected a home run, a double, and two singles in driving home four tallies.

Antioch's futile attack was led by Jack Crandall who got a single and a double in scoring two runs ahead of him. Jim Fields got two baggers.

Next Sunday Antioch will attempt to regain its lost prestige by trying for a second victory over the Model Tavern at Lincoln park, Kenosha.

All-Star Wrestling and Boxing Card Scheduled For Round Lake Park Ring

Another all star boxing and wrestling card will be featured next Saturday night in the Lake County stadium in Round Lake Park. Match maker Lou Orr states that he has signed the best talent in the Lakes area for the entertainment of the fans.

Heading the card will be a bout between two middleweights, Frank Benton of Long Lake and Herman Wasmond of Twin Lakes. These two boys have made a name for themselves in recent months and there is a great rivalry between them.

Another star match on the show features Don Walker, of Long Lake taking on Gale Kirkpatrick, the Waukegan heavyweight contender. As both boys are devastating punchers the fans can look for a knockout in this bout.

Ted Bracke, of Arlington Heights definitely a crowd pleaser is to box Jim Mazzocco, of Chicago, in the lightweight class. This is the first time a boy from Chicago has come up to challenge one of the youngsters from the Lakes area.

Henry Cole, who tosses punches with a machine gun rapidity and who hails from Round Lake Park is the hometown hero to face Bill Klein a Chicagoan in the 130 pound class. The other boxing match on the show has Gene Luptak of Round Lake beach firing his guns at Carl Maduno of Chicago. They are lightweights.

In addition to the boxing card there will be two wrestling bouts featuring the finest amateur mat stars of the middleweight. This show being staged under the stars is one of the best of the season arranged by the Round Lake Park Business Men's club.

Power Boat Regatta at McHenry Sunday May See Record Established

McHenry is all set for its Outboard Power Boat regatta Sunday, which is expected to attract race enthusiasts from Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin.

Some thrilling races are expected from the professional racers, several of which have national championship titles. The races are sanctioned and records may be established.

In the Class B Stock Utility boat race one of the contestants expects to beat all previous records with a combination of the Lightning model of the Switzerland Craft boat with a certain motor.

The hydro power boats are very light, but very fast boats which must be handled with great skill to avoid spilling. Their speed is in excess of 80 mph. In the hands of such champions as Joe Michelini, of Chicago, Bobby Myers of Kansas City, Ernie Erickson and Bud Finkel of Chicago (who will race in McHenry) these boats are capable of marvelous feats.

The official races will start at 12:15 p. m. There will be a rest spell between 3 and 3:30 p. m. at which time a special events program will be presented. This will be a colorful, three-ring affair. The Marine day queen and her court will come down the river in a beautiful float. At the same time professional skiers will skim over the waters performing daring stunts. In their wake will come the row boat race which is expected to be more hilarious than it was last year.

Grass Lake Taxpayers Meet Tonight to Plan Course Following Talk

Grass lake area taxpayers who met at the school house there in substantial numbers Sunday afternoon were told by Peter Paul Gaddy of Gages lake that increased costs do not warrant the great amount of taxes sought in Lake county this year.

"Where is the surplus money going," asked Gaddy.

The attorney for the taxpayers group said that he believed Judge Minard D. Hulse in a recent test case saw fit to leave some of the doubtful decisions to the surplus court. He saw no fault with the Butler bill in its present form.

In attendance and among the speakers were the McCullough sisters of Benton township, who have been quite active in opposing tax increases.

Nathan Galloway, chairman of the Grass lake group, said that a meeting will be held this evening in planning the organization and activity of his group as the result of information received Sunday.

Members present at Sunday's meeting said they were pleased with the courtesy shown them by tax collector John Horan of Antioch.

Lake County Fair Will Have Real Country Tang, President Chandler Says

Several Free Acts to Thrill Crowd After Tour of Many Exhibits

Folks who like a good old-fashioned County Fair with plenty of country flavor, will find it in the Lake County Fair opening at Libertyville, on Thursday, Aug. 4, and continuing through Sunday night, Aug. 7, officials declared this week.

They assured Lake County that this is a fair that has lost none of that spirit that makes it a genuine county fair. "It is a fair that will convince you that our young people are going places. You'll thrill with the 600 4-H Club boys and girls exhibiting their prize livestock, cook-ies, cakes, room improvement, and clothing exhibits," they said.

Fair visitors will see some of the best animals in the country at the Lake County Fair. Many of Lake County's livestock breeders, known throughout the midwest, will show their outstanding animals at the show.

Four-H Club members and livestock breeders have been busily engaged in training and grooming their livestock for the past several weeks. From head to tail, their prize winning animals will look like they have visited a beauty parlor.

Although the livestock is a big feature of the fair, it is not the only attraction. There'll be thousands of exhibits of gorgeous flowers, row after row of fresh, crisp vegetables, and a tent filled with fine and domestic art exhibits. And for those whose interests lean toward culinary, the shelf upon shelf of canned fruits, vegetables, meat, jams, jellies, pickles, rolls, cookies, pies and cakes should have a special appeal.

Said President William Chandler: "When you're tired of looking at all the educational and commercial displays, you can take to the Midway. Here you'll find all kinds of rides and refreshment stands. A high class free entertainment program will be presented on Thursday, afternoon, and on Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evening.

"You'll thrill to Eric Erickson in his breath-taking 'Man of the Air' act. You'll laugh at the antics of Ace Bailey and the Utah Trailers in their western cowboy act. Then, there's the hand balancing act by Jack Wolf with Baby Marie and Co. "We think you'll agree that the Lake County Fair is an event you won't want to miss. It is Lake County's biggest event of the year. In size, scope and variety of attractions, there is nothing else quite like the Lake County Fair."

Mrs. Bernice Sittler of Waukegan has filed suit in the McHenry county circuit court against Leland Kortemeier, Woodstock insurance man asking $15,000 for the death of her husband the Rev. Loyal V. Sittler, formerly of Antioch.

A Bee's Life

Total government looks upon people in the same manner a beekeeper looks upon his bees. The people and the bees must produce for the bosses in order to earn a living, of a sort, and a "hive" for shelter. But the government and the keeper get the honey.

The reason people do not thrive under the beekeeper plan is because they are individuals. They demand more than the privilege of producing for political overlords, at the expense of their own profit and freedom.

Many revolutions and civil wars have occurred over resentment at dictatorial government acting as a keeper of the people's honey.

Eventually men will balk at a government that plays the part of the beekeeper.

Owners Run Third

The advocates of government ownership of electric light and power companies have been making a very hard fight to take over the Puget Sound Power and Light Company. The P. U. D.'s have been after it, various towns have tried to buy parts of it, and some promoters have been trying to get rich by engineering its sale to public agencies.

It is hard to see how the proposed socialization of this company could make any more money for government than government is making now without a nickel invested.

In 1948, tax collectors from the various divisions of Government took $2.25 in tax money for every $1.00 paid in dividends to the owners. The owners also ran a poor third in the race between the tax collector, employees, and owners. Employees received $3.25 in wages and salaries for every $1.00 paid the owners in dividends.

This is the way the money was divided: Owners $1.00; Government $2.25; Employees $3.25.

Oil In 1910

Forty years ago the oil industry was an important factor in American life. It was producing and selling products that millions of people wanted. A glance backward at some of the advertisements published at that time provides amusement—and it also gives an insight into how an industry and a nation develop.

In 1910, kerosene was the most important oil product, and the various companies advertised reasons why their brands were better than others. Oil for the old-time cookstove was also given heavy promotion. The horse and wagon constituted a leading means of transportation, so the oil people offered various brands of coach oil and carriage grease. Old Dobbin wasn't forgotten—there was a hoof ointment, derived from petroleum, to make him happy. A special lamp oil was made for railroads—it could be burned for two weeks before wicks had to be trimmed.

Competitive advertising of gasoline was just starting. That was also true of motor oil—one leading maker urged the buyer to order a half-barrel of his line, as it came cheaper that way than in smaller quantities. In those days, the country didn't have anything resembling the service stations of the present, and the motorist often had to fuel and oil and care for his car himself.

Times change, and the demand for oil in all its forms has reached a level which would have seemed absolutely unbelievable in 1910. The country has grown—and so has the great industry which does magical things with the crude oil that nature stored for us underground.

Meat For Your Table

Two-thirds of all the meat consumed in this country is "grown" west of the Mississippi. But two-thirds of the people who eat the meat live east of the Mississippi.

The significance of this is clear. If we had to depend on local supplies of livestock, millions of people would never be able to buy meat at all. And in the farming regions of the nation, where the livestock population is large and the human population is small, producers would have virtually no market for their animals.

This problem, of course, was solved long ago, and the solution is what we call the meat packing industry. The main job of the packers is to see that meat is moved from the producing areas to the consuming areas. There are 4,000 of them, located in every part of the country. They provide a ready, year-round market for the farmer. And they bridge the distance between the farm and the ranch and the 350,000 retail stores in which meat is sold.

The packing industry, however, must do a great deal more than merely turn livestock into meat for the butcher shop. For instance, only 55 per cent of a good grade steer is beef and only 60 per cent of a pig is pork. This fact underlies the old saying that the packer finds a use and a market for "everything but the squeal." The by-products for meat packing make up a long and amazingly varied list—hides and wool, fertilizers, glands which produce insulin and other medicines, etc.

We take meat on the table for granted. But it requires a big and complex and highly efficient supply service to bring it to us.

There is no question but that this year's Kenosha County Fair will be the biggest and best ever. The added facilities for shows and comfort will accommodate larger crowds and more entries in the various departments. The new $10,000 comfort station offers lounging facilities for everyone. It is nearly complete and will be ready for use this year. The new livestock barn will allow entries of larger animals which have heretofore been impossible for safety reasons. The seating capacity for the patrons of the horse-show has been doubled and no one will need to stand in order to get a good view of the best display of show horses to be shown in this territory this year. Many of the better stables of the area are to be represented in this 1949 horse show at Wilmot and everything possible is being done to add comfort for those horse-lovers who are becoming steady patrons of the Wilmot fair because of this feature.

The matter of parking the car has always been a problem for our patrons and something has been done about this too. A large parking area, under proper supervision has been provided just north of the exhibit grounds so that our patrons may ride into the grounds, park the car, and be assured that the car will not be disturbed. A special exit has been provided so that there will be no congestion of traffic entering and leaving the grounds.

The same type of high-class free-acts will be a part of this year's fair, and arrangements are under way to provide band music in the parade as a part of the free entertainment. The dates of the Fair are Aug. 12, 13, and 14. Mark them on your calendar. Dinners will again be served by the Holy Name church of Wilmot.

WHERE DOES LUBRICARE STOP?

In one of our exacting Lubricare treatments, you pay only what a routine "grease job" would cost elsewhere—but when your Buick comes purring back home you discover we've eased up the trunk latches, puffed a little puff of graphite powder into your door locks, checked your brake fluid.

We've even oiled the windshield wiper mechanisms—and that's only a good beginning. While we lubricate we also inspect, from bumper to bumper—catching your little troubles before they grow to big ones.

This time of year your garage doors open onto a wonderful world of fun, wide and fresh again—waiting for you and your Buick!

Great highways where you breeze along—shaded narrow roads leading you back to the hills, or to a piece of water you want to see again—you'll take them equally in your stride if your Buick's in top-flight shape.

How about letting us put it in that shape for you?

Get one of our conscientious motor tune-ups, and one of our thoroughgoing Lubricare treatments. We'll put the bounce back in your motor—while we're taking the bounce out of your ride.

We do this well because we're Buick men. We know your Buick, we've studied correct factory methods for each operation, we know the factory specifications your car was built to. We use genuine Buick parts—even special Buick tools!

Yet you don't pay a penny more for all these extras. Stop in this week, won't you?

SHORT STORY

Ray
Cashes In

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

NO ONE would have believed Ray Sharon capable of stratagem. One look at him and you would have catalogued him in the reserved, conservative class of young men who adhered to the accepted patterns dictated by propriety and convention. He was a good looking boy with soft brown eyes and a sensitive mouth. He worked as a clerk in the Southport Trust Company. There was a future there for him.

3-Minute
Fiction

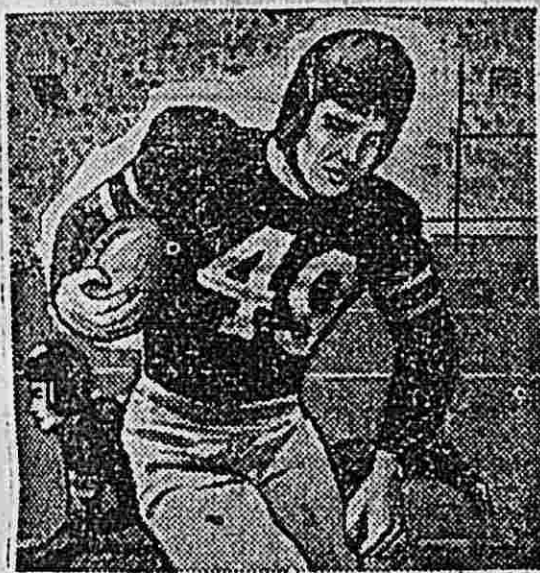

It occurred not even to Ray that the fine reputation he had could be used as an asset, cashed in on. Not that is, until Phil Clairmont came to town.

Clairmont had been born in Southport. At 18 he had gone off to college and not returned. He had been a football hero, an All-American quarterback. After graduation he had sold bonds and coached football teams and written magazine articles on gridiron tactics and given a series of lectures over the radio. He had made quite a success.

Two winters later Phil returned to his home town for the Christmas holidays. The folks gave him quite a reception. They held parties for him and asked him to talk at this function and that. He stayed through New Year's, which was longer than he intended. The reason that he stayed was Sheila Farnsworth, who taught the seventh grade.

Sheila was a native of Southport. She had wheat-colored hair and blue eyes. She had known Ray Sharon all her life. She liked him. When they grew up and Ray began taking her around, she was quite happy.

PHIL CLAIRMONT met her at one of the many parties that were held in his honor. He remembered who she was and was quite

He had been a football hero, an All-American quarterback. surprised that she had grown up and blossomed into something that was easy to look at.

Sheila was, after all, only a normal girl. Phil Clairmont was famous. When Phil took an interest in her she was flattered. It gave her a recognition that most any girl would have delighted in. No one blamed her. No one condemned her for it. If anyone felt about it at all it was a sensation of envy. A few wondered about Ray Sharon. A smaller few felt sorry for him. Occasionally she saw Ray and thus it happened that one wintry night Ray and Sheila set out in the former's coupe for the distant town of Merdale to attend a banker's ball there. It began to snow before they were a half hour on the road. "We'd better take the old road through the woods," he said. "It will shorten the journey by five miles."

Sheila thought this would be a good idea. They left the main highway and cut through the woods. But neither anticipated that the storm would reach such proportions. Two miles from the highway they got stuck.

Ray didn't mince matters. He confronted the situation squarely. The chances were even that both would perish. At any rate, he had something he wanted to ask Sheila in case he didn't get a chance later on.

He asked it. Sheila thought of many things, among them what a ninny she'd been. Ray was the man she loved, the only man she could ever love. With death staring her in the face she realized this to be a fact. She put her arms around Ray's neck and told him exactly how she felt.

An hour later Sheila dropped off into a doze. When she awoke she was lying on a couch before a blazing fire. Ray was feeding her hot soup.

No one could have believed Ray Sharon capable of stratagem. He was too definitely catalogued. Which is why not even Sheila suspected that he had planned it all; that he knew about the camp, had stocked it with firewood and provisions, had stalled his car on purpose, had removed most of the fuel. It had required a courage which he had never suspected he possessed to cash in on his assets.

English "Mosquito Plane"

The famous English Mosquito was an all-wood plane out of trees on America's northwest coast. In the first half of the war, the built-up plane propeller of compressed wood drove the majority of English war planes. The contribution of the English carpenter and his bench was matched by that of the American "gyppo" logger who searched out single Sitka spruce trees that contained airplane grades of lumber to supply the builders of England.

Alfalfa

Top-dressing of alfalfa after two seasons of harvesting will boost vigor of stand. Apply 300 pounds of 0-10-20 fertilizer per acre promptly after the first or second cutting.

When Newcastle Strikes

If Newcastle disease strikes a producing flock, a good procedure is to burn or bury all dead birds. Susceptible chickens should not be brought on the premises for at least four weeks after the outbreak.

METHODIST CHURCH TO SPONSOR D. P. FAMILY FROM EUROPE

By unanimous agreement the members of the Official Board of The Methodist church have voted to sponsor a displaced persons family. Congress has already passed legislation allowing the admittance of nearly 400,000 persons from displaced persons camps in Europe. The churches of America, Protestant Catholic and Jewish are seeking to aid these families in their resettlement. Before final approval can be gained each church must certify that the type of work in which the family will be engaged will not displace American workmen. The admittance of D. P.'s, however has been approved by the major unions of the country.

A special committee of the church has been appointed to carry out the details. Mr. Robert Kufalk is chairman of the committee which is composed of Mrs. Elmer Hunter and Miss Alice Smith. It is expected that the actual process will take several months.

County Planning To Honor Early Quinine Sponsor

ARROW ROCK, MO.—Belated honor to the memory of an obscure country physician whose courage and learning made possible the opening of much of the nation's frontier is being sought by the D.A.R. of Arrow Rock, Mo.

The doctor is John Sappington, who introduced quinine over the bitter opposition of fellow physicians, to defeat the malaria which in areas like Pike county, Ill., wiped out as much as 80 per cent of the pioneer immigrants in one year.

The D.A.R., through its committee chairman, Miss Mary Turley and Mrs. B. M. Lanham, is seeking the aid of Missouri physicians and others to erect a state memorial shrine to the doctor.

Earned of Quinine

Distressed by the malaria, which 125 years ago threatened to halt settlements of all the Mississippi valley, Dr. Sappington searched the world's medical literature for latest developments in treating the disease. Thus he was among the first to learn of it when two youthful French pharmacists isolated quinine from cinchona bark in Paris in 1820. Three years later, when manufacture of quinine was begun in Philadelphia, Dr. Sappington obtained a supply and after use on his patients knew he had the remedy he had sought so long.

Accordingly, Sappington's son was sent east for 100 ounces and through error, came back with 100 pounds. As other physicians ridiculed the treatment, and the doctor could not use such quantities in his practice, he took the bold step of opening a factory to make anti-fever pills. Soon the magic of the remedy became so well known that bells were rung at eventide in many a pioneer village to remind people to take the pills.

Published Book

When the business was at its height, Dr. Sappington published a book on fevers in which he revealed that quinine was the active ingredient in his magic pills. He advised readers to buy quinine at their drug stores and thus deliberately wrecked his business. His purpose had been accomplished. The threat to national expansion had been thwarted.

At his death, Dr. Sappington left a fund of $20,000 to aid needy students of Saline county, Missouri, to obtain an education. To date, F. C. Barnhill, Marshall, Mo., reports that, with the accrued interest, $217,014.80 has been expended, 12,584 students aided and $85,551.47 still remains.

Yet, despite great services of the country doctor, he lies virtually unremembered in a tomb amid the leaning tombstones of the Arrow Rock cemetery. Now, in long overdue recognition of the doctor's achievements, the D.A.R. has set out to provide a suitable memorial.

Aussie Males Said to 'Wow' American Girls

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA.—A graduate of Hunter college in New York who married a New Zealander but has lived in Australia since 1941 says Australian men are "better bets—as bachelors or husbands"—than American men.

She is Mrs. Violet Colbert, who was born at "and always moved back to" New Rochelle, N. Y.

She said American girls "go" for Australian men.

Mrs. Colbert wrote "In Defense of the Australian Male" under the name of Carol Coleman in the Melbourne national fortnightly, Woman's Day.

The wife of a corset and brassiere factory manager in Melbourne, she said in an interview that she formed her opinion of the United States male in four years spent getting her B.A. degree from Hunter college.

Often "Surprised" she wrote, "The Australian male," she wrote, "is often surprised, pleased and flattered by his success abroad. When he gets back home he is full of his glory and fond of telling the lass next door that she doesn't appreciate him the way American girls did."

"Why do American girls 'go' for Australian men? Why does the local product look so good away from home? Let me go right on the record, please, and maintain that it looks all right on its own home ground."

"You Australian girls who are fed on dazzling Hollywood versions of American womanhood and who recently were awed and blinded by American uniforms and wealth, lend an ear to one who speaks straight from the heart. You always take an Australian male any time or place, always."

Why? Because he has no 'line' because he's not messed up and hedged in by fraternities. Because he doesn't suffer from a surfeit of sophistication.

"Every American male is convinced that his line is unique, devastating and sure-fire, and that it effectively disguises the inner wolf."

Attitude of Conceit. "This bespeaks an attitude of conceit in the American male, and that is why Australian men are better bets—as bachelors or husbands. The American man expects to hunt, or to be hunted, while there is less self-consciousness between the sexes in Australia, and more genuine friendliness."

"I attribute this to three causes: the early age at which boys and girls go out on dates in America; the early age at which American boys are allowed to own or to drive cars, and the accessibility; and fraternities."

"My first 'date' was when I was the ripe age of 14, and my escort a seasoned 16. He had his car, and a junior license. In Australia boys and girls go to parties and dances in groups."

"Girls of 15 in New York talk about their 'steadies,' and refer to other children of similar age as 'going steady.'"

Atomic Time May Take Place Of Current Measure Systems

PHILADELPHIA.—The world is about to face a choice between two kinds of time, because the earth's rate of rotation is slowing.

"This is the message of the world's chief timekeeper, Britain's royal astronomer, Sir Harold Spencer Jones, chief of Greenwich time. He is having trouble with the length of the day, he reported to the American philosophical society."

He said that because of the gradual slowing in the earth's rotation time today is not the same as in Babylonian days. Records of Babylonian astronomers show this. Time is slower now because the earth takes longer to reel off 24 hours.

That will go on, Sir Harold said, until it will take 47 of the present days for the earth to make one turn on its axis.

In that day, too, the earth will always present the same face to the moon, because the moon's motion around the earth will be slower. You will have to travel half way around the world then to see the moon if you happen to live on the wrong side.

Sir Harold said that although this long day is too remote to be important now, its beginnings are about at the parting of the ways.

Until now clocks haven't been accurate enough to be bothered. But Sir Harold said the new atomic clock about to be built by the national bureau of standards, Washington, will really differ from the time shown by present Greenwich methods of relying on the earth's rotation. The atomic clocks will be correct. Mother earth will be wrong.

The slowdown is due partly to the drag that is friction, of tides in shallow seas. The moon raises these tides. It works just like the moon using a rope to hold back the earth.

Ancient Treasure Of Persian Gold Brought to Museum

CHICAGO.—A royal treasure of Persian gold from the period 500 B.C. has been bought by the University of Chicago's Oriental Institute.

University officials said the valuable collection was bought from a European art collector for an undisclosed price. It is the only collection of its type in the western hemisphere.

Thorild Jacobsen, director of the institute, said the treasure consists of 63 pieces of gold, each exquisitely carved. He said it is an example of the art of the last oriental empire before Greece and Rome took over cultural leadership. It is from the period of the Emperors Darius and Xerxes and survived the looting and plundering by soldiers in the time of Alexander the Great.

Intricately designed, the medallions are believed to have been adornments for the vesture of royal personages. They are the work of Persian goldsmiths and Jacobsen said they rank in craftsmanship with what the finest modern jewelers could do today with improved tools and microscopes.

He said the treasure represents an art supported by unlimited wealth.

How the gold survived the last 2,500 years is supposition. But historians believe that some Persian prince, fleeing from Alexander's men, may have buried the treasure for safekeeping.

One piece is a complete necklace consisting of 96 separate pieces—20 lion heads, 53 granulated beads and 23 other beads made of two parts.

The most prized single piece is a four-inch winged and horned lion. The ribs, muscles and feathers are chiseled to form the body. Experts said it is a rare piece of relief art work, the lion having been cut away from the medallion by hand.

The university said a microscopic examination showed that small rings on the back of the medallions, for the purpose of sewing the medallions to clothing, had been soldered with the same quality of gold as the jewelry.

Looter Emphasizes Stand Bacon Wrote Shakespeare

BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.—Shakespeare's works are so highly prized that a copy of a 1550 manuscript in which he made marginal notes is valued at $200,000.

But some people think Shakespeare got credit for plays actually written by Sir Francis Bacon.

Today police are searching for a man who broke the glass cover of a case containing the $200,000 manuscript and left a note saying:

"Read 'The Mystery of Francis Bacon' by William T. Smedley, now out of print but not wholly unobtainable, and in particular Chapter 21, Pages 158 to 159, which explodes the whole theory of Shakespeare's authorship."

The manuscript, "Hall's Chronicles" was believed to be undamaged.

Humane Society Gives Break To Blind Man Because of Dog

ATLANTA.—Big Boy, a German shepherd with a beggar's cup on his harness, had a room with a view and his sightless master learned that humane societies can serve people, too.

Big Boy and W. C. Knight, 34, appeared in Recorder's Court. Knight faced charges of cruelty to animals by starving the dog that led him through downtown streets and shared a beggar's bread and a windowless room.

Patrolman E. E. Caldwell testified that on occasion Knight was known to buy liquor instead of bread, contributing to the dog's scrawliness. He picked them up when he noticed Big Boy's thin frame, and called the Atlanta Humane Society.

Oby T. Brewer, president of the society, told Recorder A. W. Callaway that he wanted only to help the dog into health, and that Big Boy could stay with his master if Knight would care for him.

Knight, his head bowed before the bench, promised to stop drinking and to care for Big Boy as Big Boy cared for him. Callaway levied a $12 fine and suspended it.

Hopes For Whooping Crane Preservation Growing Dim

NEW YORK.—Another hope for preservation of the nearly extinct whooping crane has just been dashed.

The National Audubon society has received word from the U.S. fish and wildlife service, with which it has been co-operating in attempts to preserve the species, that two eggs laid by a pair of captive birds in the Arkansas national wildlife refuge in Texas, have been destroyed.

The eggs were broken up by the parent birds.

Only 33 whooping cranes, remnants of untold numbers, are now known to exist. The others have flown north as usual to nest in some undiscovered Arctic breeding ground.

SHORT STORY

Trapper Joe

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

THE BLIZZARD, first of the season, was roaring fitfully when Trapper Joe climbed over the river bank and approached his cabin. Midway across the intervening clearing he stumbled over something, and almost fell. The something, he discovered, was a man, almost buried by snow, unconscious.

Trapper Joe rolled the stiff form over and saw a huge pack strapped to the man's back. He grunted, picked up pack and man, and carried both into his cabin.

Trapper Joe examined the pack and found that it contained five pouches, each filled to capacity with gold dust. There must, he reflected, be thousands of dollars worth.

PRESENTLY the blanket-swathed figure stirred. Trapper Joe stared down at it solemnly. The unconscious man's eyelids fluttered, then opened.

"Take it easy, pardner," said Trapper Joe. "You're coming around."

The man stared at Trapper Joe, then sat bolt upright.

"Where am I?" he demanded. "What happened? I remember setting out for the Post. It began to snow. I kept falling. Then I saw your cabin, but—"

"But you didn't have the strength to make it. I found you almost dead. I lugged you back here and nursed life back into your body. You're safe, and so's your gold."

"You—know what's in there?"

"Sure. Some of it spilled out. You must have made a rich strike."

"I did. A pocket. I stayed too late in order to get it all out. My name's Tim McLeary." He eyed Trapper Joe curiously. "Kinda queer having this happen; waking up and finding myself alive and—"

Trapper Joe nodded. "You're wondering why I didn't leave you there to die and appropriate the dust, eh? Well, I considered it."

The blizzard was roaring fitfully when Trapper Joe climbed over the river bank.

Then thought of what a chance I'd be taking. I think: When he wakes up he'll see I saved his life. McLeary brushed a hand across his face. His lips tightened. "I get it. You were scared to snitch the stuff. You figured I'd give you half of it on account of you saved my life."

"You're a cool one all right."

McLeary twisted his thin lips into a grin. "Mebbe it was good figurin' at that. Mind if I take a sleep? I feel sorta weak."

"Drink some more soup first. Warm you up inside."

OUTSIDE the storm heat and tore at the tiny cabin. Presently Trapper Joe slept. Time passed. The storm diminished in volume, died. The figure near the fire stirred, sat up, listened to Trapper Joe's deep breathing and reached for a stick of firewood.

Trapper Joe returned to consciousness to find himself bound in his bunk. He struggled at his bonds. After an intermittently long time he freed himself, chafed his wrists, flexed his muscles. Then he built the mantel. "Sorry, old timer, I've been dreaming of a strike like this for years. I'm young and can enjoy the money. There's not enough for two. I've tied you lightly and left enough supplies to see you through the winter. Thanks for the lift."

Trapper Joe folded the note and put it in his shirt pocket.

"Time to celebrate," he said aloud. "Sides, I'll be wantin' to travel light so's I can reach the Indian village in three days' time."

Before sitting down to his feast he lifted a loose board behind the chimney and hoisted up a gallon can. He opened the can and his eyes lighted at sight of the yellow gleaming particles of dust there.

He chuckled and replaced the can. "Well," he soliloquized, "the kid had a chance to play fair, and didn't take it. If he'd been willin' to split I'd have come half way. I'll take him a week to reach the post. By that time I'll be safe and sound. Now won't he be surprised to find them pouches of his full of sand! And me with this note in his own handwritin' to clear myself."

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

PREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTH

SERIOUS DANGER

IN CALF DIPHTHERIA

If precautions and proper treatment are neglected, calf diphtheria (or gangrenous sore-mouth) may cause serious trouble and heavy death losses among young beef and dairy calves.

The disease is seen most often where dampness and lack of sunlight are coupled with poor sanitation. An outbreak may affect only one or two animals, or it may strike as many as 50 per cent of the calves on the farm.

Entirely different from the germ that causes human diphtheria, the cause of this disease in calves is the rot bacillus called Actinomyces necrophorus. This same germ is also responsible for bull-nose in pigs, foot-rot in sheep and several other livestock diseases.

When the germ gains entrance to the calf's tissues, the first symptoms usually are drooling, slobbering and refusal to eat. Wicked-looking ulcers appear in the calf's mouth, with adherent patches or areas of false membranes on the lips, tongue or cheek lining. These ulcers may spread to the throat, windpipe or even the lungs and liver. The animal becomes weak and emaciated. Death may occur within a week—or the disease may linger on for several weeks. The best precaution against calf diphtheria is to provide sunny, well-bedded quarters, regularly cleaned and disinfected.

Sunshine, fresh air, help prevent calf diphtheria.

Any calf that shows symptoms of the disease should be isolated from the rest of the herd. If the veterinarian's diagnosis and help are obtained immediately, it increases the chances of recovery, as calves have a much better chance if treatment is begun during the early stages of the disease.

European Citrus Demand

There is a potential demand in Europe for from 25 to 30 per cent more citrus and citrus products than before World War II. However, there is little immediate possibility of improving the market there for United States citrus exports because of a dollar shortage in most European countries.

Raspberry Blight

Spur blight on raspberry canes is caused by a mold organism and the old, dead canes should be pruned out and burned soon after the plant has leafed out.

Leads in Television

Indianapolis is the largest producer of television receiving sets in the world.

Lousy Pigs

There is a brand new remedy which is a one-shot, sure-cure for both lice and mange. It's benzene hexachloride commonly called BHC. One application carefully sprayed on will eliminate both lice and mange.

Safety First

Never swim alone. Always have help at hand, preferably a life-guard with the knowledge and equipment for rescue. Don't swim after dark for the same reason. It is too hard for even an expert to assist you in the dark.

Peoria has the longest uninterrupted "weather record in Illinois from 1856 to the present.

Reformed Head Hunter Gets Impressive Sight of N. Y.

NEW YORK.—A barefoot South Sea islander with a blue wool skirt, a GI haircut, and wearing a big smile arrived in New York for his first look at the "big fella place." He found it was the "now me get up no good" of his life.

By that, Robert Salau, 42, son of a reformed Solomon Islands head-hunter, meant the biggest city in the world was the biggest surprise of his life.

He was amazed that the Empire State building looked just like the tattered picture he had carried halfway around the world.

It is "high up too much," he declared.

Salau, a Seventh-Day Adventist missionary, arrived on the Mauretania after a visit to England, France, and Switzerland.

Emphasizing his friendly remarks by brandishing an eight-foot war spear, he said his voyage on the big ship was "more better than a war canoe."

About 40 years ago Salau's tribe was persuaded by missionaries to stop chopping off the heads of enemies and also saving the skulls of deceased members of families. During the war Salau and thousands of other converts gave vital information to U.S. marines. He received a citation.

Australia to Divert River On One Side of Mountain

SYDNEY.—Australia is about to undertake the greatest engineering feat in her history, diverting a river on one side of the Australian Alps so that it flows into rivers on the other side.

Headwaters of the Snowy river will be made to flow west and north across the mountains into the upper Murry and Tumut rivers, instead of flowing eastward and southward as the river now does.

Its new artificial course will be cut through the mountains, then directed through natural valleys. It is all part of a huge hydroelectric project to cost Australia 680 million dollars over a period of years.

"Hidden" Pay

The typical American worker in 1947 received from his employer benefits of more than $424 above his wages, according to a recent study. The study revealed that business is carrying a "hidden payroll" in addition to hourly wage costs, and that this "hidden" expense amounts to an average of more than 15 per cent of wages. These non-wage costs include pension insurance, life insurance, old-age and survivors' insurance, workmen's compensation, non-production bonuses, etc.

Fruit of Cashew

Cashew nut, so popular in this country, is actually the poisonous fruit of the cashew tree of Brazil and Central America, says The World Book encyclopedia. The tree is closely related to the American poison ivy and people are often painfully poisoned by allowing their skin to come in contact with some of its parts. This toxic ingredient is entirely removed from the kernels by roasting before they are shipped to this country.

"Average American"

In spite of the record number of births in the U.S. in recent years, the "average American" is almost 30 years old.

Anthrax

May through September are the principal months for outbreaks of anthrax in livestock.

This Week's Bible Verse

Verily, verily I say unto you, Except a corn (kernel) of wheat fall into the ground and die it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.—John 12:24.

360 Kernels of Wheat

In 1940, Perry Hayden of Tecumseh, Mich., heard the above Bible verse used as a text in the Tecumseh Friends Church. He decided to plant a cubic inch of wheat, 360 kernels—in 12 small rows in a space of four feet by eight feet.

He promised to give a tenth (the Jewish tithe) of the harvest to the Lord's work and resow the remaining nine-tenths for a period of six years.

Little did he think at that time that this was to be one of the world's strangest wheat crops.

(Perry Hayden was aided in this project by Henry Ford, who donated the use of land on his Tecumseh farm.)

Starting with the small plot 8 by 4, this increased to 230 acres. In the sixth and last year with 5000 bushels to plant it was necessary to distribute this planting to 276 farmers, both Protestant and Catholic, each pledging a tithe or a tenth, of his harvest to his church.

It is interesting to follow this through to its final conclusion:

1st Planting, Sept. 1, 1940—32 square feet, 1 cubic inch, 360 kernels.
1st Harvest—50 cubic inches, 18,000 kernels.
2nd Planting—45 cubic inches (18,200 kernels).
2nd Harvest—70 pounds of wheat.
3rd Planting—63 pounds of wheat.
3rd Harvest—957 pounds of wheat.
4th Planting—14 bushels (882 pounds), 14 acres.
4th Harvest—370 bushels.
5th Planting—333 bushels (230 acres).
5th Harvest—5,555 bushels.
6th Planting—5,000 bushels (by 276 farmers on 2,666 acres of land in five states).
6th Harvest—72,150 bushels.

Conclusion

The final harvest was celebrated by over 15,000 persons in the Adrian, Mich., fair grounds on Aug. 1st, 1946. It was proclaimed "Biblical Wheat Day." Two old-fashioned stone mills ground 100 pounds of wheat and a bright yellow helicopter took off with it, bound for a Biscuit company in Toledo, Ohio. This was made up in Graham crackers and returned 2 hours later for distribution to the crowd, by fifty 4-H girls. The tithe—a tenth of the total final crop (7,215 bushels) was processed by the Ralston Purina Co. into a cereal and distributed overseas for famine relief by the American Friends Service committee.

This Week's Quizzer

Ordinarily it wouldn't be a very vital issue (unless you were actually being chased by a rabbit), but there was a time when the great Northwest was well nigh split into civil war over whether rabbits run faster up hill than they do down hill. The WCCO's Northwest News Parade finally settled the dilemma for good and all. Answer next week. Answer to last week's quizzer—Georgia is the largest state east of the Mississippi river.

One of our good customers was recently approached by the salesman of another automobile dealer. Our customer told this salesman he felt about us just as he did about his doctor, dentist, grocer, butcher, barber, etc. That it had taken him many years to make the proper selection of each. Now that he had found satisfactory service he would be more reluctant to make any change. It is for that kind of loyalty we have worked many years to merit.

Elderly Miner Rescued After 10 Hours in Shaft

SHAMOKIN, PA.—A 62-year-old miner was rescued after he had been trapped for almost 10 hours by a cave-in at the bottom of a 20 foot anthracite mine shaft.

Efforts of the rescue workers were rewarded after a day-long series of trials as new coal falls threatened to take the life of Alexander Pochekilo before they could clear away the first coal slide.

The man was buried upright by a slide of coal and dirt while he and his son, Joseph, 22, worked in their independent mine at near-by Sagon. Joseph, trapped to his waist, was freed within an hour. Chinks in the coal allowed air to reach the father. To prevent further slides, the rescuers built a fence of timbers around him. Then, scooping the dirt in a five-gallon bucket and pulling it to the surface with a winch, they freed him. He was "brought up with a rope."

Measuring Spoon

Grease your measuring spoon or cup with margarine before measuring molasses, honey, or syrup. You will find that the sticky liquids pour more easily.

Famous Leatherneck

U.S. Marine Dan Daly had the rare distinction of twice winning the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award. He received the first award for service in China in 1900 and 15 years later won the medal again for action against Haitian bandits. The famed Leatherneck died in 1937.

Scratch Grains

It is not good practice to feed very much corn in the scratch grain of laying rations during the warm months since it causes the hens to become too fat and more subject to heat prostration. Wheat and oats have much less energy or heat-producing efficiency and therefore may be substituted for the corn during this period of the year.

Nation of Smokers

More ash trays were being emptied throughout the U. S. last year as the nation's smokers used up 348 billion cigarettes—a 13 billion increase over 1947. Stogie statistics were higher too as 5.8 billion cigars were burned up during the year for an increase of nearly 3 per cent over 1947.

Looting of Service Stations Continues

The wave of filling station robberies which has been prevalent in Antioch community during the past few weeks was continued this week when two Antioch filling stations were broken into.

On Saturday night thieves broke into the Murrie Service Station, corner of Main and Park ave. Entry was gained through a rear window. The thieves took some auto accessories and several rolls of pennies.

The Osmond Service Station was broken into Wednesday evening. The thieves took approximately $40 in cash. The thieves entered the building by removing a window from the frame at the side of the building. Members of the Sheriff's squad examined the window for fingerprints, but none was found.

Public Service Company Plans "Better Methods" Exhibit at County Fair

The electric farm show of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, which was a feature of last year's Lake County fair, will play a return performance at the 1949 fair, August 4, 5, 6, and 7 in Libertyville with a completely new exhibit, it was announced today by the utility.

With "better methods" again the theme, the new display, especially produced for county fairs, shows how electricity saves dollars and labor for both the farmer and the farm wife.

Housed in a "big top" tent, 60x90 feet, the exhibit features actual electrical equipment, working models and blow-up photographs demonstrating crop drying, adequate wiring for the home and other farm buildings, new ideas in lighting, ventilation and electric heat applications, farm water systems, crop irrigation, electric water heating, soil conservation, and animal grooming.

As the center of attraction for the farm wife, modern electric kitchen and laundry equipment will be displayed around a huge revolving "pyramid", which will feature many types of portable home and farm appliances.

In addition to the farm and home electrical exhibits, moving pictures will be shown free six times daily to all visitors at the utility's "big top".

The exhibit will be open daily during the four days of the fair and all persons attending the fair are invited to visit the free electric farm show.

Martin F. Feht, 60, passed away this morning (Thurs.) at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walter Forbrich, Antioch Township, following a lingering illness. Mr. Feht for many years conducted a business in Salem Township, moving to Chicago several years ago, the past eighteen months he spent in Antioch with his daughters.

Survivors include his wife, Barbara, two daughters, Mrs. Bernice Forbrich and Mrs. Lorraine Kennedy, a son, Martin, of Chicago, and seven grand children.

A report that Buzzy Carpenter, 15, son of the dairyman L. C. Carpenter was ill with polio was termed false by the parents. They said his illness was just sore throat.

Vote Unanimous For Sale of Property At Antioch Grade School

Thirty-two voters cast ballots at a referendum held at Antioch Consolidated grade school last Tuesday, and thirty-one votes were cast for the proposition and one ballot was spoiled.

The referendum was held to empower the grade school board to sell a part of the school property, which will no longer be needed since the purchase of additional property. The plot in question is directly behind the Pickard, Inc., china plant and will be bought by the company and used for expansion. The board has recently purchased the south fifty feet of three lots belonging to A. H. Kaufmann and will acquire more land from the Pickard company to complete the school playground.

Races at Point Comfort Sunday Well Attended

Chain O' Lakes Boat club races at Point Comfort last Sunday were well attended, both in the way of spectators and competing boats. Twelve heats were run with three or more boats per heat. Five E boats were on the course with Paul Gougleman's Comanche taking first honors, followed by Tracy Hill's Aloha II. Third spot was taken over by Jim Flood in the new Greyhound.

Mike work on the sound system was handled by Bob Maybe of Villa Park, who furnishes the sound equipment. Maybe is a professional square dance caller, and his fine work at the mike for Sunday's race helped greatly in the enjoyment of the crowd in being informed as to the boats, drivers, etc.

Only one accident marred the day's events, and neither of the occupants of the boat was seriously hurt. Jim Slack, driver, and Lou Balas mechanic, were thrown from Jim Moran's Patty IV, on the turn and were thought to have been seriously injured. Examination by a doctor proved that Balas had suffered a dislocated shoulder, and that Slack had cracked several ribs.

Oscar Hollenbach, newly appointed member of the racing committee handled the starting flags very creditably, there being no restarts, or disputed starts for the day's events.

Slams Child Against Wall
